Annual Report 2026

Prepared for the board of directors

1. Summary

Quarterly revenue grew across every region, led by strong demand for the new subscription plans. Operating costs stayed flat while headcount rose slightly, so margins improved for the third quarter in a row. The board approved the expansion budget for next year.

Customer satisfaction reached a record high. Support response times halved after the new help center launched in the spring.

Highlights

- Revenue up 18% year over year
- Three new regional offices
  - Lisbon and Warsaw opened in June
- Net promoter score of 61

1. Approve the 2027 budget
2. Elect the audit committee
3. Review the hiring plan

2. Results by region

Region	Revenue	Growth	Staff
North America	4,210,000	+12%	310
Europe	3,180,500	+21%	244
Asia Pacific	2,045,750	+27%	198
Latin America	640,200	+9%	61

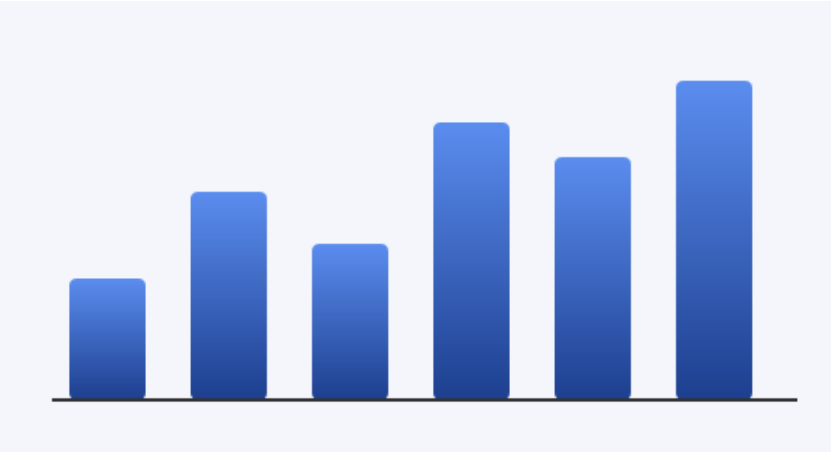

Figure 1: Revenue by quarter

Full figures are online at example.com/report

3. Outlook

Left column paragraph 1. Quarterly revenue grew across every region, led by strong demand for the new subscription plans. Operating costs stayed flat while headcount rose slightly, so margins improved for the third quarter in a row. The board approved the expansion budget for next year.

Left column paragraph 2. Quarterly revenue grew across every region, led by strong demand for the new subscription plans. Operating costs stayed flat while headcount rose slightly, so margins improved for the third quarter in a row. The board approved the expansion budget for next year.

Left column paragraph 3. Quarterly revenue grew across every region, led by strong demand for the new subscription plans. Operating costs stayed flat while headcount rose slightly, so margins improved for the third quarter in a row. The board approved the expansion budget for next year.

Right column paragraph 1. Quarterly revenue grew across every region, led by strong demand for the new subscription plans. Operating costs stayed flat while headcount rose slightly, so margins improved for the third quarter in a row. The board approved the expansion budget for next year.

Right column paragraph 2. Quarterly revenue grew across every region, led by strong demand for the new subscription plans. Operating costs stayed flat while headcount rose slightly, so margins improved for the third quarter in a row. The board approved the expansion budget for next year.

Right column paragraph 3. Quarterly revenue grew across every region, led by strong demand for the new subscription plans. Operating costs stayed flat while headcount rose slightly, so margins improved for the third quarter in a row. The board approved the expansion budget for next year.